

AMUSEMENTS

Coming of Miss Eva Ray.

The manager of the Orpheum announces that he has secured an engagement with Miss Eva Ray. The mind-reader and occult worker, for the week of Jan. 18th. This engagement has been made only after considerable negotiation and at a great expense, as Miss Ray is one of the highest priced attractions in the vaudeville world. Her great feats of mental telepathy have attracted the attention of many scientists as well as of thousands of laymen.

Miss Ray will leave this country shortly for an extended tour of Europe and her engagement here will be one of her last appearances in this country before her departure. Her time was practically all taken, but by offering an especially large price for the week's engagement the Orpheum management secured her.

Miss Ray has secured a large following in every city she has visited and the same condition will obtain here without question. Every mail brings her many queries from persons who wish her to tell them something of the future or the past that is hidden from them and it is by her ability to answer these questions and set many wrong matters right that she has gained her large following.

Miss Ray's appearance on the stage is most interesting. In amazing silence and approval your gain intuition of a power controlled by a wonderful woman without a successful rival in the world has never been given before. She demonstrates her ability to perform with comparative ease feats that heretofore you have deemed psychic phenomena with a tinge of occult and hearing doubt. You are a witness of the powers of occultism exposed by a conqueror of science ready and able to help you at all times in any undertaking. Through her agency the secrets of a hidden force to you are divulged. Any question you ask will be answered correctly whether it relates to the whereabouts of your loved ones, the finding of lost or stolen articles, prognostication regarding present or future health and a plethora of others, superfluous to detail. And it is necessary to state that the wonderful success that has accompanied her throughout her extensive and prolonged tour will be enhanced by her visit to the Orpheum.

When Knights Were Bold.

"When Knights Were Bold," Charles Marlow's wonderfully amusing comedy of today and yesterday, one might say, has proved the most successful vehicle that the celebrated comedian, Charles Marlow, has had since he eschewed comic opera, for the more legitimate work of comedy. While the cast of the company is not a particularly long one it contains many well known names and the organization with which Charles Marlow has surrounded Mr. Wilson is more than ordinarily large, numbering something more than forty people. This large number of players is made necessary because the first act closes and the second act opens with a big, colorful number—a song of welcome to the returning lord of the castle, for in "When Knights Were Bold" the action changes from the present time and goes backward more than 700 years. Charles Marlow will present Francis Wilson in "When Knights Were Bold."

From the Devil's Note Book.

Beautiful Rosabel Morrison, who will be seen as the star in "Faust" at the opera house, Jan. 8, has a sister, Mabel, who is the wife of Richard Bennett, the well known actor of the Charles Frohman forces. Her brother, Victor Morrison, is a Lieutenant in the United States navy. Rosabel and Mabel have both shown an aptitude for the stage, and Miss Rosabel has served a long and arduous apprenticeship in the strict school of her father, whose "Faust" has become a traditional classic.

Dr. James Hedley.

Of Dr. James Hedley, who is to appear here Friday night as the fourth lyceum attraction, the Keokuk, Ia., Daily Gate City, says:

The second lecture of the Y. M. C. A. course was given last evening at the opera house by Dr. James Hedley, on the subject, "What Is a Man Worth?" The lecturer is no stranger to Keokuk people. Those who heard his "Sunny Side of Life," a year ago, were expecting a rare treat, and they were not disappointed. Dr. Hedley is a wonderful word painter, and his choice of words is pure and faultless. He is a raconteur of rare ability, and his effort of last evening was interspersed with apt illustrations and anecdotes told in his own inimitable style. Perhaps his greatest charm lies in the grace and ease of his diction. The matchless beauty of his language and the chain of thought it sustains makes his lectures a great one.

HALF MILLION ACRES 'GLADE LAND SOLD

R. J. Bolles, of New Mexico, the Purchaser, and Price Paid $1 Per Acre.

Probably the largest deed, in the amount of land involved, ever recorded yesterday in the office of the clerk of the circuit court, the same being in three distinct instruments, one a deed, another a contract and the third a mortgage, says the Miami Metropolis. The deed was made by the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund to Richard J. Bolles, of New Mexico, and the number of acres of land deeded is 500,000.57, sold at $2 per acre.

The land will be paid for on the installment plan, the purchaser paying $50,000 down, to be followed by another payment of $50,000 on the first of January in each year from the first of next January to the same date in January, 1914. A payment of $100,000 will become due on January 1st, 1915, and the balance in annual payments of $200,000 the last being due in 1918.

The state is obligated to use half the amount received from the purchaser to carry on the drainage work in the Everglades. A mortgage deed in the sum of $500,000 is held by the trustees as security for the payments as specified in the contract.

The state obligates itself to furnish dredges, defray all expenses for operation of the dredges, and to construct as many canals in the Everglades as can be constructed with the $500,000, or half of the amount received in payment for the land bought by Mr. Bolles. It further agrees to permanently lower the water in Lake Okechobee four feet and the water on the surrounding lands three feet. The state obligates itself to dig a series of canals in order to reduce the water's height.

This series of canals will extend over the entire area of the Everglades, so to speak. A canal ten feet deep and sixty feet wide will be constructed from the present North canal at Ft. Lauderdale to Lake Okechobee and the south canal, eight feet deep and sixty feet wide, will parallel the north canal to Okechobee.

On the southwesterly side of the lake, another canal will be cut, to follow the Caloosahatchie river to the gulf. Another will be constructed from the head of the Miami river, running west, to about the centre of the 'Glades, then turn north and connect with the south canal from New River. This canal will be eight feet deep and forty feet wide.

Another canal will lead from the southeast of the lake to the Hillsborough river. If there remains sufficient funds to do so, after all these have been constructed, the state will cut a canal eight feet deep and forty feet wide from Cypress Creek, near Pompano, to the Everglades. Another will be cut from near Arch Creek in a westerly course, to connect with the canal from the Miami river.

The land deeded lies all within Dade county, commencing at a point near Lake Worth on the north to about Cocanut Grove on the south and from Ft. Lauderdale about thirty miles in the 'Glades in width.

All the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund signed the deed, as required by law, including W. H. Ellis, the attorney general, who it was said refused to sign other deeds wherein Everglade lands were sold. This sale of the state's lands which was consummated several days ago was commented on throughout the state as being the final act of the administration in its effort to drain the Everglades. Mr. Bolles, to whom the land was sold, was in Ft. Lauderdale yesterday and will visit Miami in a day or two.

BOGUS MONEY ORDERS WILL BE CIRCULATED

Local Postoffice Receives

Notice of Theft of Blank Orders.

WHILE THE ROBBERY OCCURRED IN THE WEST IT IS POSSIBLE THAT EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO CASH THE ORDERS IN THE SOUTH.

The following letter has been received by Postmaster Robinson, which is self-explanatory:

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 29, 1908.

Sir: For your information, I quote the following communication from Mr. G. D. Linn, postoffice inspector-in-charge of the Spokane division, Spokane, Washington, relative to theft of money-order forms and stamp from station No. 5 of the Bellingham, Washington, postoffice:

"On the night of Dec. 9, 1908, postoffice station 5, Bellingham, Wash., was robbed, the burglars securing money-order form 1297, and numbers 1401 to 1600, inclusive. On the night of Dec. 13 the same place was again robbed, the burglars securing the rubber M. O. B. stamp.

It is quite likely that both robberies were committed by the same parties, the second robbery being for the purpose of securing the M. O. B. stamp. If this is the case, they are now in possession of 201 blank money-orders, numbered as above, and undoubtedly will attempt to use them by filing them out and endeavoring to cash them with local merchants.

Please take this matter up vigorously with your local authorities and with your merchants, furnishing them with a memorandum of the numbers of the stolen orders, and caution them to be on the lookout for any party attempting to cash any of these orders. Warn merchants to scan carefully any orders purporting to have been issued at station 5, Bellingham, Wash., noting particularly the numbers, and whether same have been altered with red ink; and to be especially careful of Saturday evenings when selling goods for which an order for a greater amount than the amount of the purchase is offered. All merchants should be notified and especially jewelry and clothing merchants, and saloons.

The usual method employed by parties who have stolen orders heretofore is to fill them out for from $25 to $40 each and then purchase a small bill of goods of some merchant, generally on Saturday evening, and offer in payment one of these orders and request the difference in cash. It has also been the custom to carefully change, by use of red ink, the first figure of the number of the order, for example: order No. 1401 might be changed to 4401, or some other number, etc.

If any party attempts to cash any of these orders he should be immediately arrested, and the undersigned notified by telegraph.

Very respectfully,
GO. M. SUTTON,
Inspector in Charge.
